General Francisco Gonzales, commandant at Juarez, and Andres Garcia, Mexican Consul in El Paso, last night completed preparations for turning over the prisoners to the American military authorities.

General George Bell Jr., provided ambulances to transport the troopers to Fort Bliss, and one of his aides was at hand with a receipt for the men, to be given to the commander of the de facto troops, who accompanied the prisoners' special from Chihuahua City to prevent possible demonstrations by the populace.

NO MEDIATION IN PROSPECT

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 29.—Ignacio Calderon, Minister of Bolivia, and Rafael Zalvidar, Minister of Salvador, called at the State Department today to renew their efforts to learn whether the United States would entertain an offer of mediation in the Mexican difficulty.

Mr. Calderon talked with Secretary Lansing about 5 minutes. Afterwards he said he had been told that the United States could not discuss mediation in the absence of information that the American prisoners actually had been released and as to Carranza's reply to the demand for a statement of intentions toward the expedition in Mexico.

The Minister reminded Mr. Lansing of the interest of all the American republics in preservation of peace and said he would call again when Carranza's reply to the note of the United States had been received.

Last Day's Session of Trial Given Overt to Arguments of Counsel—Attorney General Smith "Sums Up" for the Crown.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, June 29.—Sir Rodger Casement was found guilty today of high treason and sentenced to death.

The ending of the historic trial came shortly before 4 o'clock this afternoon when the jury, which had been out less than an hour, brought in its verdict against the Irish Knight.

Today's session of the court was given over to arguments of counsel and the charge to the jury.

Sir Rodger's chief counsel, Alexander Sullivan, who collapsed in court yesterday, was unable to appear today, and his argument was taken up by Artemus Jones, assistant counsel for the defense.

The Attorney General, Sir Frederick Smith, summed up the case for the prosecution, after which the Lord Chief Justice delivered his charge.

Sir Rodger received the sentence with the utmost composure, smiling at friends in the courtroom.

After the verdict had been returned, Sir Rodger began to read a very long statement. His statement which occupied a half hour, was a plea for the right to be tried by Irishmen and for Irish nationality.

After Casement had been sentenced, Daniel J. Bailey, the private soldier who had been held as his accomplice, was placed in the dock.

The Chief Justice directed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty and Bailey was discharged.

It was announced later that the Crown had withdrawn the charge against him.

CAMP WILLIS NEWS AND NOTES

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., June 28.—"Camp Willis", five miles northwest of Columbus where Ohio National Guardsmen called out for Mexican border service have been ordered to mobilize this week, will be a model camp in more than one respect.

Each company of soldiers will be supplied with natural gas for cooking. The gas has been piped to the camp and to various company reservations. Wood for cooking purposes is said to be scarce around Columbus, and officers say gas will be cheaper and more convenient.

Also, the camp will have complete fire protection for its many tents and wooden buildings. The state has made arrangements to run a water main from the city to the camp site and to build a structure in which to house a company of the Columbus fire department. The city will furnish the firemen and apparatus.

Birg. Gen. William V. McMaken, of Toledo, who is in command of Camp Willis, expects to go to the Mexican border, if the Ohio troops are called, with part of the equipment he carried in the Spanish-American war. He has a revolver, canteen and haversack issued to him when he march to Cuba.

The adjutant general's office has received word that at least on Mexican has enlisted in the Ohio National Guard since the Ohio troops were called out. His name is Oscar Jones and he enlisted in an infantry company at Kenton. He told officers he was driven from his home in Mexico recently following a raid in which his father was killed.

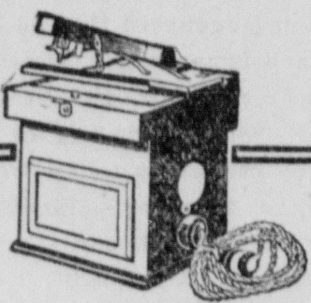

Reports show that efforts of the Ohio National Guard to obtain recruits for the militia are greatly increasing the number of enlistments in the regular army from Ohio. Since the Ohio guardsmen were called out June 19th, the Columbus barracks has received many recruits in addition to the usual percent of enlistments.

All men who enlist in the regular army in this section of the United States are sent to the Columbus barracks to be equipped and drilled before being assigned regiments. There are more than 2,000 recruits in the regular army at the barracks now awaiting assignment to regiments.

"We Want To Go To Mexico" promises to be the favorite song of the soldiers at Camp Willis. The negro troops who constructed the camp first sang the song, but it soon found favor among the other troops.

Ohio National Guard officers have estimated that it will cost 29 cents a day each to feed the Ohio militiamen while they are at Camp Willis, or four cents a day more than the same rations cost a year ago. Advance in the price of food is given as the reason. At the Yellow Springs, O., camp last summer it cost just 25 cents a day to feed each man.

More than $1,000,000 worth of clothing, bedding, tents and other supplies for the Ohio guardsmen at Camp Willis have been ordered from government arsenals at Philadelphia and St. Louis by Colonel H. W. Duffy assistant quartermaster general. The Rock Island, Ill., arsenal has been requested to send rifles.

WILL NEW DREADNAUGHT BE USED ON MEXICO?

ball cartridges and other ordnance.

All necessary equipment will be issued to the Ohio troops after they arrive at Camp Willis. All Ohio units have been instructed to leave their ammunition at home, as the federal government will furnish this article.

Approximately 150 Columbus business men have signified their intention of forming a volunteer regiment and of offering their services to the war department just the minute President Wilson issues a call for volunteers. Recruiting headquarters are to be opened in a downtown storeroom this week. The regiment, said to be the first volunteer organization contemplated in Ohio, probably will be known as the "First United States Volunteer Regiment of Ohio."

Seven regimental and corps bands will furnish the music for the Ohio guardsmen at Camp Willis.

HIGHLAND COUNTY ISSUES BONDS

Neighboring County will hurry up work of improving roads.

The Board of County Commissioners have decided issue bonds in the sum of $50,000 for the repair of our county pikes.

The past winter was so destructive that it is not considered good judgment to await the slow process of raising the funds by taxation, but the bonds will be used in anticipation and the money used immediately that the roads may be put in condition now when less will be required, than if further delayed.

The money will be expended in all sections of the county and there should be no complaint over the action of the Commissioners.—Greenfield Journal.

CORN AND WHEAT STATE'S SUMMARY

Washington, June 28.—Summary of weather and crop conditions in the corn and wheat regions for the week ending June 27, 1916.

The development of corn has been slow in the central and northern states, due to cool weather, and cultivation has been hindered in many places by frequent showers. Some replanting has been necessary in the extreme North and seed is rotting in New England. The crop is in good condition in the Southeast but rain is needed in the Southwest. It is tasseling in South Carolina and Arkansas. Winter wheat is ripening in Illinois, Ohio and Pennsylvania; harvesting is in progress south of those states, and thrashing as far north as Tennessee. Rust is reported in southern Iowa. Spring wheat, barley and rye are making satisfactory progress. Oats are making satisfactory progress in most central and northern districts and heading as far north as Ohio, Illinois, South Dakota and Idaho; some rust is reported in New Jersey and West Virginia. The weather has been favorable for meadows, pastures, potatoes, sugar beets and fruit. Tobacco is growing well in central districts and planting is progressing slowly in the northern districts.

Columbus, Ohio, June 28.—Farm work was delayed the first of the week, especially on lowlands, by heavy rains, but the weather was very favorable during the latter and greater portion of the week and good progress was made along all agricultural lines. The nights were a little cool for corn and oats. In the southern portions of the state cats are heading, wheat is beginning to ripen, and haying has been commenced. Potatoes are in bloom even in northern sections. The setting of tobacco plants is progressing rapidly. Fruit of all kinds continues quite promising and pastures are in excellent condition.

The Return of Roosevelt

With the formal declination of the progressive party nomination for president and his recommendation of the candidacy of former Justice Charles E. Hughes, the republican nominee, Colonel Roosevelt seems to be once more safely back in the fold of the republican party.

Not only has the ex-president agreed not to oppose the republican nominee, either as a candidate or as a political leader, but he is active and outspoken in behalf of Mr. Hughes.

What, to many, seemed impossible less than four years ago—the return of Colonel Roosevelt to the republican party and the disintegration of the progressive party—has become an actual existing fact.

The most impossible feature of all in connection with the Roosevelt return is that there was no attempt made by the republican party to placate or compromise.

In his return to the republican party Colonel Roosevelt comes as a private and takes his place in the ranks of the political organization from which he led a tremendous revolt four years ago.

There has been no revolutionary change in the policy of the republican party. Except only in the person of the standard bearer, the organization stands in this campaign practically where it did four years ago. Mr. Roosevelt's revolt, therefore, we must assume, in the light of recent occurrences, to have been actuated by personal pique rather than by any fundamental difference on matters of principle.

As to the effect of Colonel Roosevelt's action political wiseacres, quite naturally, differ.

That the majority of the voters who left the republican party in 1912 to follow Colonel Roosevelt will return now to the republican party seems the logical conclusion, but that they do so because of Colonel Roosevelt's leadership is not probable. They do so because they had no reason, save personal admiration for the strenuous ex-president, to leave the party four years ago and with the "spell" lifted they realign themselves with the party of early preference. The majority of the democrats who followed Colonel Roosevelt in 1912 will also, drift back into the columns which they left. That is, of course, speaking generally.

But for the effect of other issues that have arisen since 1912 the broken units of the progressive party would return home by force of the political laws of gravity.

Colonel Roosevelt's support will strengthen the candidacy of the republican nominee not so much because he can now lead any substantial following to the standard of the New Yorker as because he has destroyed and broken up into its original units, leaving those units to shift for themselves politically speaking, an organization which did attract votes from the republican ranks.

The Necessary Reform

The fact that all of the property in Mexico is held by a very few and the great majority of the inhabitants are not only without any property holdings, but are without opportunity to better their condition is the cause of the deplorable condition of anarchy which holds Mexico today in its grasp.

Ability and thrift count for naught in a country where the few are very rich and the many are very poor.

The land in which conditions are such that opportunity does not exist cannot endure in peace.

Man knows that opportunity should be free alike to all and that the wealth of the earth should be accessible as a reward for effort and integrity.

Enlightened people are able to assert their right under a just government without resort to the torch and the sword.

Where ignorance and superstition still hold men enslaved the only remedy is violence, war and anarchy.

If what now seems probable, even though the action of Carranza in releasing American prisoners may delay it for a time, does occur in Mexico, intervention by the United States, the greatest problem in the rehabilitation of the country, the first essential to the establishment of order, will be to break up the immense fortunes now held by the few, especially the vast land estates.

The Mexican masses will never submit peacefully to any government which closes the door of opportunity to them. These vast land estates may be converted—taken over by the government that is to be in Mexico—the owners, who acquired them by the favor of some despotic usurper of authority, given a fair measure of compensation for their honest share and the lands opened up to homestead occupation thus affording the masses an opportunity to acquire their share.

That's the basic work of the new government in Mexico and without doing which no government can exist and maintain peace.

That work must follow quickly after the restoration of order if that order is to be permanent. The Mexican masses have lost confidence in every form of government and turn in distress even to the bandit for relief. It will require the strong arm of this great nation to first compel attention, then respect and obedience in order that the way out may be indicated to the distracted people of Mexico.

Poetry For Today

YOUR UNCLE SAMUEL SPEAKS

My temper is not a hair-trigger.
I bow to the gentleman's law.
Because I am stronger and bigger
I don't slap a little man's jaw.
But, son if some fellow
Believes I am yellow
And thinks that with safety I'm Kicked,
Just take it from Sam'l, your old
Uncle Sam'l, that some one's about to be licked!

If any durned, pesky muskeeter
Keeps buzzing just out of my touch,
I say, "There are songs that are sweeter,
But, pshaw! you don't bother me much!"
But son, if that creature
should bite any feature,
Believe me, it will not be rash
To bet that old Sam'l, your stung
Uncle Sam'l, will flatten that skeeter kersmash!

Of glory I never go raving,
Or swearing belligerent oaths.
The banner I seldom am waving.
Though sometimes I use it for clothes.
But, son if a greaser
Who thinks he's a Caesar
Throws mud on that flag of my pride,
Just take it from Sam'l; your hot Uncle Sam'l, that soon I'll be tanning his hide!

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Gas in the Stomach.

The belching of gas is a condition caused by indigestion. Sometimes indigestion occurs from hurriedly swallowing the food without having taken time to masticate it. Food carried to the stomach in chunks invariably acts as an irritant. It sours and ferments, and there may be painful sensations in the stomach. Gas forms, and until it is expelled by belching there will be increasing pressure and pain in the stomach. The cure is, first of all, prevention. This means chew and chew the food until it is well ground up before swallowing it. Persons who spend a long time eating their food seldom suffer from stomach affections.

The symptoms are distressing at the time and must be relieved. Common bicarbonate of sodium, a teaspoonful in a tumbler of hot water, sipped while hot, will relieve the immediate symptoms. If the condition is habitual an effervescent laxative medicine and a plain saline will be curative.

Excused.

Two ladies, each with her child, visited the Chicago Art museum. As they passed the "Winged Victory" the little boy exclaimed: "Huh! She ain't got no head." "Sh! the horrible little girl replied. "That's art—she don't need none!"—Harper's Magazine.

MOSBY'S PRESENT

A Gift and Message That Ticked Lincoln's Sense of Humor.

RETURNING THE COMPLIMENT.

An Equivalent That Was Appreciated and Treasured by the Confederate Colonel—An Episode Born of the Capture of General Stoughton.

Colonel John S. Mosby, the southern cavalry leader in the war between the states, accumulated many mementos of that long and bloody struggle, but none which he treasured more jealously than a lock of dark hair wrapped in a faded yellow scrap of newspaper. The hair was cut from the head of Abraham Lincoln. It was Lincoln's own hand which cut it, and the great war president himself who sent it.

In the spring of 1863 the Army of the Potomac lay along the north bank of the Rappahannock, about fifty miles south of Washington. The intervening country was, of course, in the possession of the Union troops. Off in the recesses of the Blue Ridge mountains, about thirty miles westward, was Colonel Mosby, with a body of picked southern cavalymen, seeking to do what injury he could to the Federal outposts and lines of communication.

About the middle of March there encamped at Fairfax Court House, a village of about 500 inhabitants, halfway between Washington and the army on the Rappahannock, a force of several thousand Union troops under General Stoughton.

From a military point of view, his camp at Fairfax was nearly as safe as Boston. Between his own force and the southern army, under General Lee, lay General Hooker's great Army of the Potomac. Even Colonel Mosby's small force—less than a hundred men—was thirty miles away.

Nevertheless, Colonel Mosby determined to capture General Stoughton. Selecting twenty of his best troopers, he started one drizzly March afternoon for Stoughton's camp. It was after midnight when he ran into the first picket, who was easily captured in the darkness. And thus, taking picket after picket in the black night, Colonel Mosby made his way without alarm into the village, until he entered General Stoughton's bedchamber.

The unhappy officer was compelled to dress and accompany his captors. The pitch black, rainy night and the fact that the men of both commands wore rubber capes of the same style rendered it impossible for the prisoners, Stoughton included, to determine the number of the enemy. With half a hundred prisoners and a hundred horses, Colonel Mosby quietly made his way out of the camp and was soon beyond reach of pursuit.

The adventure created a stir in military quarters. Stoughton was roundly censured for allowing himself thus to be stolen from the midst of his troops, although he was in no wise to blame.

President Lincoln, whose sense of humor nothing could quench, remarked, when told of the affair, that he did not mind losing the general, but the hundred horses were a serious matter. "I can make a general with the scratch of a pen," he said dryly, "but I can't make horses."

Shortly afterward Colonel Mosby, with a few companions, was reconnoitering in the vicinity of Washington. On the road he encountered an old Dutch market woman taking her garden truck in her cart to peddle it through the Washington streets. Colonel Mosby stopped and questioned her. Noticing a pair of scissors at her belt and having heard of President Lincoln's comments on General Stoughton's capture, he said:

"Do you know Mr. Lincoln?"

"Yah," replied the old woman. "Seen him often, I have."

Taking the scissors, Colonel Mosby cut off a lock of his hair, and wrapping it in a piece of paper handed it to the old woman, saying:

"I'm Colonel Mosby. When you get to Washington go to the White House and tell the president that Colonel Mosby sent him this lock of his hair and say also that he is coming over into Washington some night to get a lock of the president's hair."

The old market woman went her way, and Colonel Mosby rode back and forgot the incident. Some weeks later, however, when making another reconnaissance in that neighborhood, the old woman halted him from a roadside cottage. Hurrying into the cottage, she brought forth a scrap of newspaper and delivered it to Colonel Mosby.

"Here iss a lock of President Lincoln's hair," she said. "He tolt me to say to you that he hat rather you would not come ofer to see him and that he send it to you by me. Here it iss!"—Youth's Companion.

As She Saw It.

"What is the meaning of specter, Lizzie?"

"Please, sir, I don't know."

"Now, think. What is the specter that usually frightens people?"

"The school 'specter, sir."—Pall Mall Gazette.

TEMPORARY INSANITY.

Caused by Mental Trouble Somewhat Akin to Epilepsy.

Is there such a thing as temporary insanity?

Many people think that the expression merely covers the kindly intentions of a jury to save relatives pain, but numbers of doctors who have made a study of mental disorders emphatically declare it is no idle term.

One doctor has stated that temporary insanity is a condition of double consciousness, not dissimilar to epilepsy. A person normally quite sane may have attacks of temporary aberration lasting little more than a few minutes, especially after long bouts of hard, continuous mental work, being particularly liable if insomnia supervenes.

Crimes have been committed in the early morning, when the perpetrator has not really been properly awake and has been horrified to find what he has done. This is a true case of temporary insanity, but it is comparatively rare, and a man in normal health would not suffer in this way.

A specialist in mental diseases has stated that he knew a case in which a person was insane during a certain time each day and that others have been known when the patient was quite normal at ordinary times, but suffered from a temporary fit of mania regularly once a month.—Pearson's Weekly.

REAL WHITE AFRICANS.

One Native Race, the Berbers, Have Fair Skin and Light Hair.

Most people imagine all African tribes are dark skinned people, but this is a wrong impression. The Berbers are an African race, and, although they have lived on the dark continent for ages, they are white as Europeans. They are very fine looking people, with white skin, fine complexion and many have blue eyes and very light hair, and many of the women and young people have very pretty rosy cheeks.

It is pretty generally believed the Berbers originally came from southern Europe centuries ago, and the race has remained distinct all these years in spite of the odds that would seem to be against them.

Many of the Berbers are very industrious, and some show considerable mechanical skill, having invented a number of devices that are in use among the people of their own tribe.

If they dressed and lived as Europeans it would be difficult to detect them from our more modern people, but in their own way in the dark continent there is nothing to indicate their origin except their color, which has remained perfect for all these long years as if they came from Europe.—New York American.

Yes, She Could.

"I don't see why mothers can't see the faults in their children," said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Jones.

"Do you think you can?" asked Mrs. Jones.

"Why, I would in a minute if my children had any."—New York American.

"ROYAL TIME" ENJOYED BY OUTING PARTY

Dahl-Campbell Guests at Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia and Atlantic City Are Enjoying Themselves to the Limit.

Make the East "Sit Up and Take Notice"—Liberal and Favorable Press Comment Gives Washington C. H. Big Boost.

Legislators Address Party From Steps of Nation's Capitol.

A telegram received by The Herald from the big Dahl-Campbell excursion party tells its own story. The contents of the message simply confirm what every one hereabouts has "known"—that the party is having one grand glorious trip and is enjoying, to the limit, the liberal generosity and the many courtesies of the entertainers.

Every arrangement looking to the comfort, convenience and pleasure of the big party—forty coach loads of people—has been attended to, down to the most minute detail by the advance men.

Mr. Campbell and the traveling men of the firm are with the party seeing to it that everything comes up to the plan agreed upon.

The guests of the company have no responsibility. Even to looking after their own baggage ever annoyance and burden is taken from the members of the party and assumed by the managers. The excursionists have nothing to do save enjoy themselves and that they are doing to the limit.

The statement that nothing like the big outing party has been seen in the East is correct. The arrangements are thorough and complete and working out perfectly.

Here is the telegram to The Herald:

Atlantic City, June 28, 1916. Herald, Washington C. H., O.

"Outing exceeds all expectations. Big get-together on steel pier tonight with ten thousand spectators. Party are all well and are attracting wide attention in East. Nothing like it ever known here and the press is devoting much space to the excursion which is resulting in great advertising for Washington C. H."

"The party receives treatment royal everywhere. Washington City was wide open. Senator Pomerene, Congressman Fess and Rickett addressed party on front steps of Capitol, the first time such a thing was ever done."

"All delighted with sights and entertainment. Nothing could be greater is the unanimous verdict."

COMPANY OPERATING AT FULL CAPACITY

The Circleville Canning Factory is working full time to take care of many wagon loads of peas that arrive daily from the country. They are employing in the neighborhood of fifty men and women and some departments are working over time.

There is an unusually heavy crop of peas this year and they are of fine quality. If good luck and seasonable weather permit, the entire crop should be handled by the middle of next week.

PROMINENT MEN BECOMING ACTIVE FOR DAUGHERTY

Wednesday evening a few of the personal and life long friends of Hon. H. M. Daugherty, including Henry Brownell, D. S. Craig, Hon. J. M. Willis, D. H. Van Winkle, William Worthington, Hon. Chas. A. Reid, Estel Smith, John Anders, Forrest Anders, G. H. Hitchcock, Jess W. Smith, met at the law office of Post & Reid for the purpose of conferring together relative to ways and means to aid the candidacy of Mr. Daugherty for the United States Senatorship.

The men who met last night are all members of the Daugherty Club, formed some months ago by the citizens of this city and county and they met with the purpose of forming an aid to the larger organization, a more available and workable force.

The first action taken was to select a small working committee composed of Jess W. Smith, D. S. Craig, J. M. Willis and Henry Brownell (who was chosen chairman) with C. A. Reid and Forrest Anders as chairman and secretary respectively, of the Daugherty club ex-officio members.

This smaller organization will proceed in its work along the line of personal knowledge of and personal friendship for Mr. Daugherty. The slogan will be "We know this man and he is all right." The organization is in no sense a political organization but a personal one and the effort will be to get for Mr. Daugherty the maximum of support because of local pride and local interest.

It will be the aim of the organization to bring those facts home to each voter in this county and enlist them in the campaign. In this county and outside among their personal and business friends.

The committee will meet again on Friday night to further perfect the concrete working force.

The type of men who have taken up voluntarily the active work of assisting in Mr. Daugherty's campaign is a distinct compliment to him personally and should be of great assistance to his cause.

DIVORCED COUPLE ARE RE-LICENSED

Artie Stevens and Inah Sander son, Divorced on March 9, Are Re-hitched Thursday in Newark.

Artie Stevens and Inah Stevens, who preferred to give her name as Inah Sanderson when petitioning for the remittance of the divorce decree, granted on March 9th, were accommodated by Judge Allen, Wednesday afternoon.

It seems that Artie has forgotten or forgiven the faults of the woman which he dictated in his testimony, whom he chooses, a second time, to call his wife, how he was compelled to work in the fields all day long in the burning heat of the sun and return to the house at night to prepare his own supper—and so forth.

They seemed to be as light hearted and carefree as the first day they were wed when they appeared in Judge Allen's office Wednesday. The kind-hearted court remitted the divorce decree and issued a new license and they departed on the evening train for Newark, O., where they will be reunited in matrimony.

WILL UNDERGO OPERATION TO STAY IN CO. M

Private Houser who has been enlisted with Company M for some time, has developed an internal affliction which has resulted in the man being rejected for active service upon medical examination in Columbus.

Houser and all members of the company were greatly disappointed with the outcome of the physical examination, and with Houser's consent the local company has agreed to defray the expense of the operation necessary to remove the difficulty in order that the man may be retained in the service.

30 CARS START FOR WATERLOO

Thirty automobiles, each floating the national colors and loaded with happy picnicers started for the Beatty farm at Waterloo this morning to enjoy a day of fishing, boating and picnicking with the Fayette County Fish and Game Protective Association.

All occupants of the machines were well armed with fishing tackle and bulging lunch baskets.

Many business men who found it impossible to leave with the first detachment, joined them after dinner. All banks and most of the downtown groceries were closed at noon, so that the proprietors and clerks might attend the picnic.

CONCERT BY LOCAL BAND

Music Lovers of Washington Much Pleased With the Concert Which Far Exceeded, From a Standpoint of Real Merit, All Expectations.

ATTENDANCE DISAPPOINTING.

The Washington Band gave a concert at the Empire Theater Wednesday night that was worthy of a far larger audience and more generous patronage than it received.

Of course, there were most unfortunate conditions which interfered greatly with the attendance. For two days the bands of counter attractions had been continually playing on the streets; many were on the Dahl-Campbell excursion and others busy with preparations for Thursday's big picnic.

The band boys were inclined to believe that the small audience indicated that Washington did not appreciate their efforts and would not support the band, but undoubtedly the time was unfortunate.

The boys very fully appreciated the audience they had—one representative of leading citizens and music lovers—and the strenuous applause which continued throughout the program.

The band had been augmented to 31 pieces, with the leader, Mr. James Whelpley, and, in their white uniforms thrown into relief against the background of the Stars and Stripes, made an imposing ensemble—one of which Washington could be justly proud.

A splendid program was rendered; the good volume, the prompt attack and expression all proving both the ability of the players and the great amount of hard practice.

The boys certainly scored success in their work and the audience was delighted with the beauty and finish of the numbers. Each one vied with its predecessor in attraction—one of the finest the Grand Sacred Overture.

Mr. James Kneisley was encored after a beautiful violin solo, with band accompaniment and drew wonderfully sweet tones from his bow in a second number.

Mr. Perce Pierce also delighted the audience in popular songs with band accompaniment and was heartily recalled.

Those who failed to attend the band concert missed a real treat and withal the apparent apathy, there is no little local pride and interest in the Washington Band and its excellent musicians.

At the close of the concert Manager Wilson and the Darling Daisies Musical Comedy Co. put on a complimentary show in the nature of a one act extravaganza, with special scenery, electrical effects and many changes of costume.

FINED FOR BREAKING QUARANTINE ORDER

Lawrence Parker appeared before Mayor Oster Thursday morning, charged with violating the quarantine law. Although this is a very serious offense the mayor was lenient and placed the fine at the minimum of twenty-five dollars with reasonable time for payment.

Young Parker was at the home of Mrs. Sword on John Street when the house was quarantined for smallpox by Health Officer Byron. He escaped at the time but was recognized and arrested on the streets Thursday morning by watchful officers who knew of his exposure to the disease.

The Mayor ordered him to remain at his home or to return to the sword home to remain until the period of contagion was over. After that period, unless reasonable effort is made on the part of the man to settle his fine, he will be confined in the workhouse.

TWO SOLDIERS IN GUARD HOUSE

Estel Stuckey, member of Company M, located by Sheriff Jones at Springfield and brought here Wednesday evening, was ready, willing and anxious to do duty as a high private in the company beginning at once.

He told Captain Hardway, and others, that the reason he hadn't responded to the call was that he didn't know a call had been issued. Didn't in fact know that the United States was having any difficulty at all with Mexico.

Captain Hardway couldn't exactly understand how that was possible and ordered Stuckey taken to the county jail which is being used as a guard house with Sheriff Jones commandant.

Stuckey is allowed two slices of bread and one cup of coffee each day during the term of his confinement. Later on the military authorities will determine just how he will be punished.

There is one other soldier inmate of the temporary guard house—a private who took on board a "wee drop" too much Tuesday evening and made some insulting remarks to passersby on the street about the number of enlistments from Washington.

Captain Hardway, who will not stand for the intoxicating fluid, ordered him to the guard house at once on the same diet as Stuckey.

Wednesday morning the private sent word that he wanted to see the captain and Captain Hardway sent back word that on Friday next he'd see him and determine what to do.

ANOTHER SHIPMENT OF FAYETTE'S HORSES

George Fickle who has been in the county buying horses for some time sent another shipment to farming districts in Pennsylvania, Thursday morning.

There are thirty horses in the consignment and they are all fine animals.

COMMISSIONS WILL BE SCARCE

Members of volunteer companies, organized at the present time will not secure commissions from the governor of the state, as heretofore.

The following statement made by Captain Hardway of the local company should clear up some mistaken ideas.

"A few enterprising men are taking advantage of the present crisis to sign up volunteers, expecting to present them and secure commissions. This method was in vogue during the Civil War, just before draft. It is obsolete because no longer legally possible. The old laws required the Governor of the state to recruit and name the officers. The present military laws of the United States relating to recruiting and organization were passed by Congress in April, 1914 and June 3, 1916. Under these laws, all officers' commissions are granted by the President, through the War Department. These laws first permit the President to draft the National Guard units, including their officers, and then organize and commission reserves.

"A knowledge of these United States laws would be a benefit to men seeking commissions. Men organizing and signing for Volunteer Companies are doing their country an injury, besides wasting their time in useless effort."

TRAIN MOVEMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

That orders for the movement of Company M from this city will be shortly forthcoming is very evident from the nature of the latest General Order received Wednesday by Captain Hardway.

General Order No. 7. Paragraph 1.—The following schedule of train movements of your organization to Camp Willis is hereby announced. The day of leaving home station will be telegraphed.

Paragraph 2.—Company M will leave Washington C. H. at 10:42 a. m., B. & O. and arrive in Columbus at 11:40, B. & O.

Paragraph 3.—Your organization will probably be detrained near the camp. Wagons will meet your cars. Your company will be marched directly to camp and will be reported to Regimental Commander.

By order of

COL. BARGER.

DAVIS IS STUNG BY DAYTON MAYOR

Wylie B. Davis who was arrested in Dayton last week on a charge of living unlawfully in that city with Ceie McCoy, formerly of this county was fined fifteen dollars and costs in the city courts of Dayton and sentenced to three months in the workhouse by the Mayor of Dayton, Tuesday.

The workhouse sentence was suspended on the promise of good behavior on the part of Davis.

Davis has a wife and two children in this city.

COMPANY MUSICIAN

William L. Vincent Jr., the musician of Company M is kept quite busy these stirring times of making preparations.

In addition to his duties as orderly and the regular duties of musician he is giving instructions to a newly enlisted private in the art of military music.

POULTRY EXPERT COMES TO COUNTY

Mr. J. H. Kilpatrick, poultry expert from the Ohio State University will be in Fayette county the remainder of the week with the County Poultry Club that has headquarters in this city.

The Fayette County Poultry Club is an organization growing out of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs which have been so active in the rural districts during the past year. It is a sister organization with the hog-raising club.

Mr. John Wuchet the pig expert who has been in the county recently, pronounced the swine raised throughout the county to be of excellent quality, which information greatly stimulated the contestants in the pig-raising contest. There are from forty to fifty boys and girls registered in the contest and they are striving to raise the fattest hog with the least expense in the shortest time.

The results of all contests are to be judged by experts at the Fayette County Fair.

LOST IDENTITY FOR YEARS.

Hurt in San Francisco Earthquake.

Recovers Memory in Milwaukee. Milwaukee, Wis.—Samuel Samuels of San Francisco "awoke" in Milwaukee, he says, after his memory had been dimmed for ten years through an injury sustained during the San Francisco earthquake.

Wandering aimlessly, as though lost, Samuels, who is about sixty years old, accosted a policeman at Van Buren and Brady streets with the question, "Am I in San Francisco?" When told that he was in Milwaukee, 2,000 miles from San Francisco, Samuels was dubious.

"I owned a clothing store in San Francisco and had money," he said. "Where have I been and how have I lived all this time? I know I have wandered and tramped to many places, but until this day I did not know my own name or where I belonged."

Gander Plays Mother Goose.

Brazil, Ind.—Hobart Brewer, a farmer near Center Point, has a gander that believes the duties of the housewife should be shared. When a goose was set on a number of eggs the gander made it evident that he also desired to sit, so he was provided with a nest of eggs. The gander stuck faithfully to his task and hatched out a number of little ones.

Miss Edith Hamm charmingly entertained nine tables of Bridge Wednesday afternoon in compliment to Miss Myrtle McCoy, who leaves next week for New York to continue her art studies during the summer school of the Applied School of Arts, which is held at Belle Farm, L. I.

Crimson ramblers decked the rooms in most artistic arrangement and each small table had for its centerpiece a single crimson poppy and spray of maiden's hair fern in crystal bud vase, an effective and novel decoration.

Following a gay game Mrs. D. H. Barchet, having high score, was presented with a corsage bouquet of pink roses and a similar bouquet to the honor guest.

Miss Hamm was wearing a pretty gown of white voile. Miss McCoy wore a becoming gown of white net with pink trimmings.

Assisting in the hospitalities were Mesdames Martin Hamm, H. L. Stitt, Earl Barnett and R. T. McClure. The excellent catering was in charge of Loreen Woodson.

Miss Mary Dudley, the charming young southern girl who has been visiting Miss Jean Howat, and Mr. Ashton McMullan, also the week end guest at the Howat home, stole a quiet march upon their circle of acquaintances in this city by plighting their troth in Covington, Ky., Wednesday afternoon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. English, of the M. E. church. Miss Jean Howat accompanied them, returning Wednesday night.

Both young people belong to prominent families of Clifton Forge, Va.

The bride was a school friend of Miss Howat at Randolph-Macon school, and has several times visited here, each time enlarging the circle of friends who will learn of the nuptials with much interest.

Mrs. Henry Hire, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brock and Clark Denny, of Jeffersonville, left Thursday on a motoring trip to the Lewistown reservoir, where they expect to remain until next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Baker are entertaining Mrs. Baker's sisters, Mrs. George Whitehead, of Columbus, Miss Nelle McCarty of Delaware, and brother, Mr. Lou McCarty of Delaware.

Miss Anna Hempstead is recovering nicely from an appendicitis operation of three weeks ago and returned from the Fayette Hospital to her home on N. Hinde street, Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Margaret McGuire, Miss Edna Lynch, Mrs. Clarence Yapple and Mrs. Rachel Foster, of Waverly, were motoring guests of Mrs. Anna Hays and daughter, Mrs. Howard McLean, Wednesday.

Mrs. W. M. Mitchener and children, Willard and Judith Anne, leave Friday morning for Boston, Mass., where they will visit Mrs. Mitchener's brother, Mr. Marsh Willson, and family. Before returning they will visit Mrs. Mitchener's brother-in-law, Dr. Willard Burke, in New York, and expect to stop in Washington, D. C.

The many friends of Mr. A. J. Walker who resides on Broadway street, will be sorry to learn that he suffered quite a severe attack of heart failure Thursday morning. Dr. Blakeley was called and administered restoratives which relieved the attack measurably. Later in the day Mr. Walker was resting easy with every indication of a complete recovery. The attack came suddenly just after breakfast Thursday morning while Mr. Walker was preparing to go to his work at the Coffman Planing Mill.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Sellers and Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Higdon, of Frankfort, Ky., stopped here Wednesday evening enroute from Marysville, Ohio, to their home, to spend a short time with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dalbey, cousins of Mrs. Sellers. Mr. Higdon is reporter for the court of appeals and Mr. Sellers is manager of the public service at Frankfort, Ky. The party were loud in their praise of the attractive appearance of Washington C. H., throwing many bouquets at our city.

RUSSIANS ARE AGAIN HELD UP

Von Linsingen's Men Make Gains In Volhynia.

GERMANS ON OFFENSIVE

Launch a Drive in the Champagne and Gain Temporary Possession of Some French Advanced Posts.
Paris Records Further Progress
Near Thiaumont Farm—Austrians
Apparently Unable to Halt Italians.

London, June 29.—The Austro-German armies of General Von Linsingen have achieved a substantial success in the big counter drive against the Russian advance in Volhynia by storming Liniewka, seven miles to the southwest of Sokul, as well as the Russian positions south of the village. This means that the Russians in this sector have been driven back over the River Stokhod, which runs parallel with the Styr and which they crossed two weeks ago in their advance on the great railroad center, Kovel.

Rome claims additional gains on the Italian front.

An offensive was instituted by the Germans in the Champagne region and was continued with an infantry attack which succeeded in gaining temporary possession of some French advanced posts.

The attack in this district, which is in the region of the French offensive of last fall, was begun on the St. Hilaire road, a little west of the salient, with Tahure in its apex. The German artillery in this region increased its bombardment, and following the cannonade, infantry was sent forward, gaining for the moment a foothold in advanced posts, which it was unable to hold against the French counter attacks.

On the Verdun front the French, preceding the offensive by twelve hours of artillery preparation, made strong attacks on the position taken by the Germans on the Cote de Froide Terre on June 23, and on the village of Fleury and the line extending toward the east. These attacks broke down completely, according to Berlin, with extremely heavy losses for the attackers. Grenade attacks made by French detachments at Le Mort Homme, on the west bank of the Meuse, were repulsed.

Further progress was made by the French, according to Paris, in the operations north of Hill 321, north of the Thiaumont farm, and on the borders of the Thiaumont field work. The Germans made two counter attacks on this bank of the Meuse, one on the French positions northeast of Hill 321 and the other between Fleury and the Bois de Vaux Chapitre. Both attacks broke down. There was heavy fighting in the Thiaumont sector. The French lines at Avocourt and Chantancourt, on the west bank of the Meuse, were under heavy bombardment. German forces, gathered for an attack on Hill 304, were prevented from leaving their trenches. Hand grenade actions took place at Hill 304 and Le Mort Homme.

Reconnoitering attacks by the British on the front held by them between La Basse canal and the district south of the Somme are reported by the German war office. These attacks were accompanied by heavy artillery fire, mine explosions and the use of smoke clouds and gases. All these attacks were repulsed.

TEDDY DINES WITH HUGHES

Will Take the Stump For the Republican Nominee.

New York, June 29.—In a love feast in which only the two participated at the Hotel Astor Charles E. Hughes, Republican presidential nominee, and Theodore Roosevelt assured each other that they are at one on all the issues of the present campaign, and Colonel Roosevelt pledged himself to make three or four speeches for the former justice.

Mr. Hughes dictated this statement: "I was much pleased with Colonel Roosevelt's letter of endorsement, and he has expressed himself in a very kindly way with respect to my telegram to the Progressive committee. I wanted to talk with Colonel Roosevelt fully with regard to the issues of the campaign and asked him to dine with me, so that we might have that opportunity. We had a very delightful interview. We talked very fully over all matters and are in complete accord."

The colonel expressed himself no less enthusiastically. The two had had a most satisfactory talk, he said, and he was greatly pleased. He declared that he agreed most heartily with the attitude taken by Mr. Hughes toward the great questions at issue, and had assured Mr. Hughes that he would support him with the utmost heartiness.

STRANGE VISITOR

(By American Press)

Baltimore, June 29.—It was announced by one of the best known financiers in Baltimore that the German merchant submarine, for which New York, Boston and other cities on the Atlantic coast have been looking for several months, is now off the mouth of the Chesapeake bay. He said the vessel will be in Baltimore some time today. He is interested financially in the venture.

According to the information given out here the submarine is loaded with dyestuffs and medicine, chiefly aspirin, both of which are badly needed in the United States.

A tug is waiting off the capes at Hampton Roads to meet the vessel and tow it into port.

Stored on the pier of the Eastern Forwarding company here are nickel and rubber. They will constitute the cargo of the submarine on her return voyage to Germany.

Officials of the Baltimore customs house expressed no surprise when informed that the German submarine was due here. Port authorities of Boston and New York have been expecting the submarine for two weeks.

ARE READY FOR SCRAP

(By American Press)

New York, June 29.—Both Frank Moran and Jack Dillon will enter the ring tonight weighing somewhat more than they expected to a week ago. Moran had figured on tipping the beam at 200 pounds. According to his manager, Dorgan, he will be 202 or 203 at ringside. Dillon, who had expected to be a 165 pounder, will be at about 168 or 169 tonight. Thus Moran's advantage in avoirdupois will be between 30 and 35 pounds. He is 5½ inches taller than Dillon. The bout, which will go ten rounds, will be pulled off in Washington park, Brooklyn.

ATTACKS LATTANNER

(By American Press)

Columbus, June 29.—Alleged withdrawal and diversion of funds from the defunct Security Savings bank of Columbus, which state examiners say was "a serious blunder to say the least," by former State Bank Superintendent Emory Lattanner, is set forth in a report by State Auditor Donahey of an examination of the state banking department between April, 1911, and January, 1915. Whether these practices alleged were criminal, the examiners say they are leaving to the attorney general and other officers of the law to determine.

ACTION LESSENS TENSION

Further Concessions On the Part of the Mexican Government Anticipated by Officials at the National Capital—Satisfaction to Be Sought
For Attack On American Troops at Carrizal.

Washington, June 29.—An immediate break between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico has been averted by compliance with the American demand for release of the twenty-three troopers captured in the fight at Carrizal. General Trevino, according to reports from the border, issued the order liberating the soldiers.

The pessimism which had been apparent at the White House and in other official quarters has given place to a brighter outlook, and it was acknowledged that if Carranza has yielded to the demands of the United States to this extent, an important step had been taken toward averting the present crisis.

The change of feeling in Washington was all the more noticeable because President Wilson, until word was flashed of General Trevino's action, had been making his plans on the assumption that further peaceful parleys with Carranza were impossible. The president had, in fact, made preliminary arrangements to lay the Mexican situation before congress. He had expected a rejection of the American demands and had prepared a tentative outline of his address to congress.

Carranza's action is probably only the forerunner of further concessions. The United States in its recent note to General Carranza demanded the immediate release of the prisoners, together with the property of the United States, and also called upon Carranza to inform this government as to the course of action which the Mexican government has determined upon for the future. The belief here is that Carranza would not have yielded on the first of these demands unless he intended to adopt a conciliatory course toward the second.

There is no doubt that President Wilson will welcome the opportunity for a peaceful understanding with Carranza and that he will go more than half way in trying to clear up the present situation without a recourse to arms. There is no doubt, though, that Carranza will have to give satisfaction for the attack on the American troops and that the president will not be content with anything short of a definite understanding in regard to the future. There is no intention on the part of the administration of withdrawing the United States troops from Mexico, and any peaceful solution of the present situation will have to be based on this condition.

"ALL SORTS"

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 29.—Americans along the border continue their preparations for home guards in the event of war. Practically every town from Brownsville to San Diego reported the formation of such guards. Tucson, Ariz., reports the most unique organization. Thirty Chinese citizens have formed themselves into a company and have placed themselves at the disposal of the mayor of the city, with the promise that they will increase their number to 100 in a short time.

That the Mexicans are still hopeful of peace was reflected in an interview given out by Mexican consul Garcia, although this was discounted largely by an interview by Congressman W. R. Smith, who arrived at the border from Washington and asserted that intervention is inevitable.

"All the good people of both countries ought to get together in the interest of peace, for war would mean hell on earth," said Consul Garcia in the Comandancia at Juarez. He still clung to the hope that hostilities might be averted, and expressed the belief that neither side realized the meaning of a struggle of this kind.

El Paso, Tex., June 29.—General Benjamin Hill, commander of Carranza troops in Sonora, was killed by a French merchant in Mexico City when he refused to pay for a hat he had bought. Spanish refugees arriving told of the killing and said an army officer with Hill then killed the merchant.

INSULT TO FLAG SAYS SECRETARY

(By American Press)

Washington, June 29.—The American rejoinder to Austria regarding the recent Austrian submarine attack on the American steamer Petrolite, just made public, describes the act as "a deliberate insult to the flag of the United States and an invasion of the rights of American citizens," and requests a prompt apology, punishment of the submarine commander and payment of indemnity.

In vigorous language, the communication sent a week ago makes it clear that the United States government believes the facts of the case entirely different from what the Austrian submarine commander reported them to be and that immediate amends are expected.

STRUCK SNAG

(By American Press)

Chicago, June 29.—The labor conspiracy trial before Judge Scanlan was suddenly halted when the state charged that its witnesses had been intimidated as the result of the explosion of a bomb in the place of business of Thomas Petrakos, restaurant owner, one of the prosecution's most important witnesses. Petrakos told the jury of having paid extortion money before windows broken in his place of business were reset. State's Attorney Barnhart requested a continuance of the trial for the purpose of holding a conference with the remaining witnesses, who are to be called to assure them that no harm will befall them for testifying.

ON THE WAY

(By American Press)

El Paso, Tex., June 29.—General Jacinto Trevino has ordered that the American prisoners interned in the penitentiary at Chihuahua City be taken to Juarez and there, with their arms and accoutrements, be released. Mexican authorities asserted that General George Bell, Jr., commanding the El Paso militia district, had been notified of General Trevino's order, and that the prisoners are expected to reach Juarez some time today. General Bell did not deny the report, but refused to discuss it.

BOND ISSUES; THEIR EFFECT WORTHY OF EARNEST STUDY

Comparisons of Cash and Bonding Plans for Financing Construction of Improvements Submitted—Would Have Legislature Provide Levies to Take Care of Existing Bonds and Raise Revenue for New Work.

Columbus, O.—(Special).—Bond issues and their effect upon the taxpayer, as also upon the official and his power to give the public service demanded by the people, was discussed by Mayor George J. Karb of Columbus at a meeting held in that city. The points he made and the illustrations he submitted were conceded by his audience to be worthy of direct and earnest study by the people and by the state government. In substance Mayor Karb said: "The tax problem of Ohio has been studied time and again, and numerous efforts have been made, legislatively, to correct conditions, which become more disturbed instead of more settled each year. Realty duplicates have been doubled, and personal property, never before appearing on the duplicate, is paying taxes, but the same demand comes from the taxpayer that tax rates shall not increase, and from public officials that only increased rates can care for the extended service demanded. "In between the taxpayer, who objects to increasing tax rates, and the officials, who find higher rates necessary to maintain public service, comes the agency of interest charges on bonded debt for improvements asked and provided for. It is the system of building improvements by bond issues which has produced the condition objectionable to both taxpayer and taxpayer. It is this credit plan of financing improvements that is eating into the vitals of the body politic, a plan state legislation will have to correct by prohibiting all bond issues, except such as are issued to secure to abating property the accommodation of paying their share of improvement cost in stated annual payments—they cost to pay, as heretofore, the interest cost.

"In 13 years Columbus has issued about $13,000,000 in bonds. It has collected by taxation $3,247,800 to apply on these bonds, leaving $9,752,200 more to collect from taxpayers. It has collected another $3,316,000 thus far that has been used to pay interest due and there must be yet collected from taxpayers $9,607,000 to pay interest yet to fall due.

"To build $13,000,000 of improvements in 13 years will have cost in the end $26,000,000. "Had the cash plan instead of the bonding plan, been used to finance the construction of improvements, we would have levied in tax the difference between this $13,000,000 and the tax already paid, on account of these bonds, of $6,563,800, or $9,436,200 more. Divided by 13, this would mean that an additional tax of $725,861 a year would have paid for every improvement undertaken since 1902, and today's debt would be but the small amount yet unpaid on bonds issued prior to 1903, the sinking fund and interest charge thereon becoming less and less each year as the debt grew smaller until freedom from all debt would leave all tax revenues to support government and provide cash payment for all new improvements without increase in rates.

Tax Rate Under Cash Plan. "Had this cash payment plan been legislatively provided for in 1902, Columbus, to construct each year some new improvements costing $725,861 would have had to raise its tax rates as follows:

|--------------|-----------------------|
| In 1902..... | From $2.75 to $2.81 |
| In 1903..... | From $3.00 to $3.06 |
| In 1904..... | From $3.00 to $3.06 |
| In 1905..... | From $3.00 to $3.06 |
| In 1906..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1907..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1908..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1909..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1910..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1911..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1912..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1913..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1914..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1915..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |
| In 1916..... | From $2.90 to $2.96 |

"By this table it will be seen that by starting with a cash payment plan in 1903, the tax rate was boosted 38 per cent to provide $725,861 improvement funds for that year, the absence of interest charges, on financing these improvements gradually decreased the increase in tax rates, though providing for an equal amount in new improvements, until by 1916 an increase of less than 2 per cent over existing rates was necessary. "This higher rate, providing as I have stated, $725,861 to construct new improvements this year, would have cared for all shortages in operating funds now facing us without any bond issues for waste collection, street, sewer or bridge repair, and would have also taken care of the new improvements costing $230,000. Instead of providing in 1916 taxes for $1,041,827 to pay on bond debt and interest charges, we would have taxed but $184,200 to care for the bonded debt created prior to 1903, and $495,000 shortage in city funds for 1917, as also the $320,000 short this year, could be made good upon the same $136 tax rate now levied, provided no new improvements were made that year, while the 1918 rate, providing for all present operating expenses and $725,800 in new improvements, would be the same. "The $13,000,000 we will have paid, in interest charges, would have paid for $13,000,000 in additional improvements, equal in size, and cost, to those constructed in the past 13 years, though the changed process would, in 1903, have compelled higher levies, which by next year would be no more than the rate we now pay. But to accomplish this the law of tax limitations would have to be changed. These advantages we have lost. We can only learn the lesson to be taught. The results can not now be changed. We have got to make good on the contracts entered into. But we can commence now the plan and secure for a later year the benefits we could now enjoy had the cash payment plan been put into force in 1903.

Would Change Laws. "The greatest thing the coming legislature can now do is to provide: "First—That such tax rates may be levied as will care for all existing bonded debts, their interest charges, the sums necessary to maintain public service, and for construction of such new, or replacement of old improvements, at such cost as will not exceed in amount, say, one-fourth of 1 per cent of the duplicate, in any one year, except by vote of the people; that issue of any but assessment bonds shall be prohibited, so establishing the cash payment plan for the present bond plan to finance improvements. Such law provided by the legislature in 1917, effective for 1918, would probably raise the tax rate from one of 13.6 mills to 16.7 mills, but by such increase would not only take care of all existing obligations, but would provide for $750,000 in new improvements and paying cash therefor, as this would permit, would save about $1,000,000 in interest charges. It is not so much to say that the bond debt of American municipalities has increased in amount 115 per cent in ten years; but it is very much to say that the bond debt of these cities has increased 226 per cent in these ten years. It does not mean so much to say that the debt of Ohio counties and their subdivisions have increased 105 per cent in ten years, but it means a great deal more to say that these bonds and their interest charges have in these ten years increased the mortgage indebtedness against Ohio taxpayers 218 per cent.

"It is not the bond debt, but it is the interest charge that is becoming an increasing burden on taxpayers. "When we say as to Columbus, for instance, that its net debt, less assessments due, is $10,500,000, we only state half the truth, because the actual debt is this sum, plus the interest yet to be paid of $9,607,000, or a total of $20,000,000. We got $13,000,000 in improvements, have paid $6,563,000 thereon, and we still owe $20,000,000.

No Gain in Tax Limitation. "There is less to be gained by limitation of rates than upon adoption of the cash payment plan for improvements. "This is the end of the problem for the next state administration to take up and settle. "It would have been better for Columbus, in 1907, to have levied a tax rate of $4.17, instead of the $3.04 rate taxed, to secure the $1,000,000 to abolish grade crossings. Instead of issuing bonds therefor, this improvement in the end cost $2,000,000, of which sum we have already paid $451,071, or nearly half the improvement contract itself involved, and have yet to pay for 21 years more $50,119 annually. To save paying, in the year 1907, an extra tax of $11.20 on a property valued for taxation at $1,000, and by so doing be done with this cost forever, this same plan has placed upon that same property a claim for $23.25, which began in 1907 and does not end its life until December of 1947—31 years from now.

"It is argued that improvements cost should be distributed over the several generations benefited by it. Put do we get this result by bonding improvements? Take, for example, the $1,000,000 cost to build the sewage purification works provided for in 1902. If the generation of that year lived 20 years it will have paid in interest on these bonds $720,000, and will have laid aside, to pay on the debt, just $411,480, or a total of $1,371,480, or $171,480 more than the improvement cost. Yet it leaves to its children the payment of $655,740 for a plant that, like the High Street viaduct, is nearly worn out. We may distribute the cost of an improvement over the several generations benefiting by the improvement by financing it through bond issue; but if, in 20 years, we have paid in more than the work actually cost, we have transferred no part of the cost to future generations to pay.

"This is the problem to be met in the future sessions of the coming state administration. Making limitations on tax levies does not reach the core. The one department which costs the public more than any other department, rendering no effective service at all to taxpayers, is the interest charge department that must be closed up, its affairs be wound up and the day of cash payment for improvements be started. The start will be a little burdensome, but the finish will be easy and economical. "Habits are hard to break and much sacrifice is necessary to get rid of them. It will be the same in changing from the credit to the cash basis for construction of public improvements, but in the end we will have a lesser burden to carry, and a tax rate attractive to the building up of Ohio and the creation of a commonwealth free from debt."

BUCKEYE SOLDIERS MOVING

Eighth Ohio Reaches the Camp at Columbus.

OTHERS TO FOLLOW SOON

Eighth Regiment Said to Be Largest Numerically in the United States—Mobilization Camp Ready for the Militia—Soldiers to Be Mustered Into Federal Service at Once. Day's Developments.

Columbus, June 29.—Ohio national guardsmen are being moved to the mobilization camp, northwest of the city.

The Eighth regiment arrived today in Columbus. In addition, the Second field hospital company, Columbus, moved to the mobilization camp. Without cessation, the remaining organizations of the Ohio national guard, called out by President Wilson, also will come in successive days to the mobilization camp, from which they soon may depart for the Mexican border. As troops from other states are being rushed south, those from Ohio may not be kept in camp long. Quartermaster supplies, blankets, uniforms, bed sacks, shirts, shoes, etc., sufficient to supply 6,700 soldiers, arrived from the St. Louis arsenal and immediately were unloaded at the camp. Ordnance supplies, knapsacks, rifles and cartridge belts for 7,500 men, had arrived earlier from Rock Island. The former filled nine cars and the latter three.

These supplies, together with what the Ohio national guard itself had on hand, practically all of which will be mustered into federal service, are calculated to be sufficient to accommodate all of the 12,930 Ohio troops called out. Ammunition will be given them when they detrain near the border.

To clothe local officers with authority to receive the federal supplies, Major Robert W. Mearns, chief mustering officer, mustered into federal service Colonel W. H. Duffy, quartermaster general; Major John S. Shetler, Columbus, of the quartermaster's department; Colonel Joseph A. Hall, Cincinnati, chief surgeon of the Ohio national guard, and Captain H. C. Webster, Toledo, of the quartermaster's department.

The Eighth regiment is said to be the largest, numerically, in the United States. It has been far in the lead of other Ohio regiments ever since the troops were called to arms. Colonel Edward Vollrath, senior ranking colonel in the state, is commander of the regiment, and former Adjutant General C. C. Weybrecht, Alliance, is his lieutenant colonel.

The twelve companies of the Eighth are scattered widely in area. They came into Columbus over the Pennsylvania. Big Four and Baltimore and Ohio railroads. Company A was stationed at Bucyrus, B and F at Akron, C at Canton, D at Wooster, E at Ashland, G at Wadsworth, H at Sareve, I at Tiffin, K at Alliance, L at Gallon and M at Mansfield.

The Sixth of Toledo and either the Fourth of Columbus or the Fifth of Cleveland probably will be ordered to move to the camp tomorrow, with the Second of Ada and Third of Dayton following in the order named. Besides the infantry, there soon will be at the camp a battalion of signal corps, battalion of engineers, squadron of cavalry, battalion of field artillery and five companies of sanitary troops.

The soldiers will be mustered into federal service as soon as possible after their arrival at the camp with company, battalion, regimental and brigade commanders after them. All will be immunized against typhoid and smallpox. It is not known whether they will remain a day, a week or a month at the camp. Because of the movement of troops from other states to the border, the chances are against a long retention at the local camp.

UNSHAKEN

(By American Press) Waukegan, Ill., June 29.—After hours of pointed and furious questions the prosecution brought the hearing of Will H. Orpet to a dramatic climax by directly accusing the apparently exhausted youth with the murder of Marian Lambert. The trembling boy faltered and then, rallying, clung to his original story. Time and time again the wily prosecutor trapped and snared him in pitfalls, but the boy caught himself each time and, correcting an answer, picked up the thread of the main story and could not be shaken from it.

BIG CARNIVAL IS GOOD ONE

The Metropolitan Shows that are exhibiting here this week under the auspices of the Welfare Association are exceptionally good. All nuisances that accompany the average carnival, namely, confetti, whips, objectionable gambling devices and immoral shows have been eliminated. The Southern Minstrel Show, the Mule Show and the Athletic Show are far above the average carnival attraction. The riding devices are all safely constructed and all refreshment booths seem to be sanitary. Mr. Davis, advance advertising agent for the shows, says it is the object of the company to provide good wholesome entertainment for men, women and children.

HER BARE LEGS SHOCKED.

Stockingless Woman Almost Caused Riot in Cincinnati. Cincinnati, O.—The eyes of downtown crowds in the fashionable shopping district almost popped out of their sockets at the sight of a richly dressed woman who stalked with limbs bared to the knees through the streets. Police had to be called to disperse the crowd and rescue the woman. She refused her name.

Rat Carries Away Glasses.

Evansville, Ind.—John Stark, a merchant, struck at a rat in his stable, and his glasses fell in such a position that they formed a yoke in the path of the rat, into which it ran. The glasses stuck and the rat escaped into a hole, carrying Stark's favorite lenses. Stark dug into the hole, but found no trace of his glasses and is convinced they still are being carried by the rat.

RUSSIAN CAPTURES UNEQUALED

Troops of the Czar Capture 10,000 Prisoners on the Southern Russian Battle Front.

Total Prisoners Taken Since Offensive Begun Foot Up Staggering Number of 210,000—Captures Unequaled in War.

British Artillery Fire Continues at Verdun and French Blow Up 20 German Positions.

(Associated Press Cable)

London, June 29.—The capture by the Russians of more than 10,000 additional prisoners in the fighting on the southern Russian front was announced by Petrograd today.

This brings the total figures claimed since the Russian offensive began to nearly 210,000 officers and men.

Heavy fighting in other sectors of the front has not caused the intensity of the struggle at Verdun to diminish.

Another powerful attack was delivered last night by the Germans near the Thiaumont redoubt, north of the citadel.

Like the preceding assault, this was checked, the Paris War Office declares, by the French artillery and machine gun fire, which decimated the German ranks.

In the Champagne, a French raid near Tahure penetrated German positions as far as the second line of defense, where sheltering works were blown up.

The British are continuing their intense artillery fire and trench raids all along their extended front in France and Flanders.

Official announcement in Austria-Hungary claims progress for the Teutonic counter offensive in Volhynia.

PRESIDENT WILL MAKE ADDRESSES

Washington, June 29.—President Wilson arranged today to go to Philadelphia to deliver an address this afternoon before the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World.

IS EPIDEMIC IN NEW YORK

By Associated Press Dispatch.

New York, June 29.—An epidemic of infantile paralysis is spreading so rapidly here that the health department has organized a special force of twenty experts to fight it. So far, 206 cases have been reported in Brooklyn and 20 in Manhattan, from which there have been 12 deaths.

"4TH" BOOSTER HAD SMASH UP

An incident occurred in the Fourth of July advertising party of the Dutch Treat Club on their trip to Jeffersonville Monday night, which rather disconcerted Mr. M. E. Hitchcock, a prominent member of the boosters.

It seems that Mr. Hitchcock whose business makes it necessary for him to do considerable driving in the country, is accustomed to carry pure drinking water along with him to guard his health against the impurities that are often found in rural wells.

Now as every one knows, a bottle is the logical receptacle for carrying all liquids. Mr. Hitchcock realized this but wishes now that he had chosen a closed bucket for his purpose.

In the hurry and confusion of departure Monday night, Mr. Hitchcock neglected to remove the empty bottle, which he had carelessly tossed into the bottom of his machine.

On arriving in the village of Jeffersonville the party were surrounded by a group of interested and curious citizens. As fate would have it when the rear door of the car was opened for the occupants to alight, their was a sound of glass on a brick pavement and Mr. Hitchcock's friend in local lay under the car broken beyond recognition.

Citizens who saw the incident declared that it was a bottle of a very suspicious shape.

Now Mr. Hitchcock who has always been known to Jeffersonville folks as an enthusiastic temperance worker shocked the populace and it was only after a great deal of effort on the part of Mr. Hitchcock that the presence of the "dead one" was explained.

EVERY CARE FOR HEALTH

Folks at Home Are Promised That "Boys" in the Service Will Have Every Care.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, June 29.—Those who have sons, husbands or sweethearts called to the colors with the National Guard are promised, in a statement issued today by the Army Medical Department, that there will be no repetition of Spanish war health conditions among the troops, and that the men will have every protection afforded by science, forethought and money.

The statement points out that typhoid fever, the chief enemy of the soldiers in 1898, has been eliminated, and vast strides have been made in controlling other diseases.

High officials of the Administration let it be known that the United States would proceed with its military operations to completely safeguard its citizens and territory and would continue to pursue bandits in Mexico whenever there was hope of overtaking them, regardless of any action Mexican military commanders may take.

It was apparent about the War and State Departments today that release of the prisoners had made the situation less critical.

It had no effect, however, on efforts to speed up the mobilization of the National Guard along the international line and to furnish an adequate supply of war material to meet any emergency.

FUNERAL SERVICES MR. C. C. M'CREA

Relatives, friends and the veterans of the G. A. R. assembled at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon for the last sad rites over all that was mortal of Mr. C. C. McCrea.

The veterans acted as escort from the Kiever undertaking establishment to the church and one of the largest turn outs of the G. A. R. at any local funeral followed the bier down the aisle, while Mrs. B. F. Davis, at the organ, played softly.

The services were conducted with much impressiveness by Rev. T. C. Kerr, of Bloomingburg, who made a pertinent and comforting talk and read the hymns.

There were many beautiful flowers, including special designs from the John M. Bell Post; the W. R. C. the Men's Bible Class of the Presbyterian church and local horsemen, as well as relatives and personal friends.

The burial was made in the family lot in the Washington cemetery; the G. A. R. holding their affecting ritualistic service at the grave.

The pallbearers were Judge F. G. Carpenter, Mr. George McCrea of Columbus, Messrs Joseph and Arthur McCoy of Frankfurt, Messrs S. C. Phillips and James Clark.

WASHINGTON BOYS RESPOND TO CALL

At ten-thirty Wednesday evening the second and third enlistments of Washington boys were recorded. Robert Highland and Leslie McMullen presented themselves at headquarters and later underwent a successful physical examination.

Fred Verhelm and Henry Penwell of Union township were added to the company at the same time, making an aggregate of one hundred and ten privates and three officers enlisted when the recruiting station was closed Wednesday night.

The example set by Highland and McMullen was followed Thursday morning by Charles Daley and Lester Estel, both from the city. These latest enlistments give the company a fighting strength of one hundred and fifteen men.

PROCTOR HOME WAS RANSACKED

Mr. Edgar A. Stark and attorney, representing the Union Savings Bank & Trust Company of Cincinnati, executors of the will of the late Kate B. Procter were in this city Thursday to appraise the property of the deceased woman in Fayette county.

Accompanied by George Hitchcock and John McDonald of this city, they went to the Procter home place, one and a half miles northwest of the city late Thursday morning.

Upon entering the house which had been closed since last February, they were confronted by a confusion of furniture, clothing and torn paper that seemed to have resulted from a thorough ransacking of the place. Drawers and desks had been opened and their contents scattered. A room which had been used as an office had been broken into and all furnishings had been turned upside down.

Fruit from the cellar had been carried up and opened.

It was apparent that the prowling parties had entered from the window, as there were traces of the use of a jimmy.

It is impossible to determine the amount of missing property at the present time, since the two men, from Cincinnati, had never been in the house before and were unacquainted with the valuables concealed there. Mr. Stark stated that Mrs. Procter had spoken of a valuable tea set left in Washington C. H., but it is probable that it was taken to one of the city banks for safe keeping before Mrs. Procter entered the hospital in Cincinnati.

There are other reports about, of valuable clothing and silverware left in the house. The banks being closed on account of the Fish and Game Protective Association picnic, it was impossible for Mr. Stark and his attorney to search for any of the missing valuables that may be in keeping there.

The Deputy Sheriff was called and a thorough investigation of the mystery will be made.

DENNY M'MAHAN TAKEN TO WORKS

Denny McMahan, charged last November with stealing corn on the farm operated by B. C. Mace, and who has been confined in the county jail since May 26, through default to furnish one hundred dollar bond, was sentenced by Judge Allen Wednesday afternoon to ninety days in the Xenia workhouse and was taken to that institution Thursday morning.

The man first plead not guilty in the mayor's court and was bound over to the Court of Common Pleas for trial in the fall term of court under bond of one hundred dollars, to insure appearance. Upon failure to furnish bond he was imprisoned in the county jail.

To hurry matters up, the case was transferred to the Probate Court where sentence was pronounced.

The piece is a very pleasing waltz of the Italian strain and the words quite appropriate. It is the first published work of either Mr. Whelpley or Mr. Maynard.

The Declaration's Printing.

The delegates from New York and those newly elected from Pennsylvania who had been sent in place of the men formerly opposing the declaration, as well as John Morris, signed the Declaration of Independence on the 2d of August. Thomas McKean of Delaware was allowed to sign later because he was absent from congress on that date, and newly elected members were allowed the same privilege as late as November.

Satisfied that the signed parchment was a lasting evidence of the birth of the new nation, congress took no further official action regarding the instrument itself until the month of January, 1777.

By that time the new republic began to feel its strength, and congress decided to promulgate the names of the signers of the Declaration of Independence by ordering that printed copies of the document should be made, with the names of the signers added. These were to be sent to every state, with the request that the declaration be put in the assembly records.

Mary Katherine Goddard, a woman who carried on the printing business on Broadside, Baltimore, probably never heard of woman's rights, yet it happened that it became her right to print these copies of the American bill of rights, as she was then conducting the printshop in which her brother, William Goddard, had failed some time before.

From these copies numerous others were soon made, until before long every home boasted at least one copy of the original document which gave life to our republic. The spread of interest in the text of the declaration was enormous, every rebellious colonist desiring to read the charter of American liberties.

Last Revolutionary Survivor.

The last survivor of the Revolutionary war was John Gray, who died in Noble county, O., aged 104 years, on March 26, 1868. He came to the Buckeye State early in his existence. For some years before he died he drew an annual pension of $500 from the government. General John A. Bingham having got a special act through congress for this. Gray's father was killed at the battle of Stillwater, and he took his place in the army, being only sixteen years old then. He served through the remainder of the war. His military record is on file at the office of the Ohio commissioner of soldiers' claims.

Hats Off to the Flag!

If any reader of these lines has ever visited a foreign country, has been a stranger in some far away place over the ocean, he may remember the feeling of joy, of pride, that came to him when he first saw the stars and stripes floating over the consulate.

One writer says he remembers some years ago walking down the Bois de Boulogne in Paris. Just ahead of him was a regulation man of the world, and yet something about him indicated that at one time or another he had lived in America. He walked slowly down the avenue until all of a sudden from the second story of a building at the right there were flung to the breeze the silken folds of a beautiful specimen of the American flag. The man of the world saw it. In a second his silk hat was off his head, and despite the on-lookers he gave three as lusty cheers for the stars and stripes as ever came from an American throat. As the writer reached him he turned about and with tears rolling down his cheeks said, "I did not know that the sight of anything could touch me like that."

His Futile Attempt.

Mr. Scraggington (in the midst of his reading)—Here is an item about a blasted fool who kissed his wife 2,500 times in one day. Mrs. Scraggington—Of course he was a fool to think he could deceive his wife that way. What does the account say he had been doing?—Judge.

One Reward.

Celebrate Sanely.

Celebrate the Fourth with all proper patriotic fervor, but celebrate sanely. Be willing to lay down life or limb for your country, but do not sacrifice either to make a holiday.

The tabulated records of the deaths and injuries on July 4, 1915, show that over half of the injuries in cities were in New York and Philadelphia. In the eighty-four cities tabulated 806 persons were injured. Of these New York was responsible for 272 and Philadelphia for 280, making a total of 552 for these two cities alone, while only 254 persons were injured in the other eighty-two cities. In Chicago, which in 1907 had sixteen persons killed and 151 injured and in 1908 had twelve persons killed and 202 persons injured, there were in 1915 only eight Fourth of July accidents. Curiously enough, however, of these five were fatal, giving Chicago, in spite of its remarkably low record for injuries, the largest number of deaths of any of the eighty-four cities, five deaths in Chicago being half of the total number of fatalities in cities.

IT'S AN ESSANAY

It is a rough hewn love story that reaches every heart; a whirlwind wooing that lifts you off your feet with its intensity and rapid action. Denied in love, the man kidnaps the girl, chains her in his mountain lodge and wins her love by cave man methods.
